SCHOOLHOUSE POND PRESERVE

Cross Rd
Boothbay, Maine

Schoolhouse Pond Preserve is a quiet, wooded preserve featuring an easy 1.2-mile loop trail through mixed forest land with wildflowers, interesting rock formations and a beautiful old stone boundary wall.

The property was the site of a former schoolhouse from about 1840–1895. A small cranberry bog known locally as Schoolhouse Pond can be found by following the wider, multi-use trail through the center of the property.
