LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, NICK ULLO

WEATHERING THE STORM: Boothbay Region Land Trust Faces New Challenges Amidst Climate Change

As the impacts of global climate change become increasingly evident, communities around the world are grappling with the consequences of more extreme weather patterns. The Boothbay region in Maine is no exception, experiencing stronger storms and unpredictable weather that are taking a toll on the local environment. For Boothbay Region Land Trust (BRLT), tasked with the crucial responsibility of maintaining trails, these changes have translated into a significant increase in our workload.

The rise in frequency and intensity of storms poses a direct threat to the integrity of our heavily-used trail network. Fallen trees, eroded pathways, and damaged infrastructure have become common challenges, requiring prompt attention and resources to ensure the safety and accessibility of the trails. Climate change-induced weather events, such as heavy rainfall and powerful winds, contribute to the deterioration of these natural assets.

Fortunately, thanks to the steadfast support of our generous members, BRLT has been able to rise to the occasion. The funds provided by members like you enable BRLT to deploy skilled personnel and acquire the essential equipment needed to address the aftermath of severe weather events promptly. By maintaining trails, BRLT not only preserves the natural beauty of the region but also ensures that these outdoor spaces remain safe and accessible for the community to enjoy.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all of the members whose unwavering support has been instrumental in helping BRLT weather these challenges. Your generosity ensures that our preserves remain resilient in the face of climate change. Together, we are forging a path towards a sustainable and vibrant future for the Boothbay region, where the beauty of our natural landscapes can be enjoyed by generations to come. Thank you for being the backbone of our efforts, and for standing with us as we navigate the evolving landscape of environmental conservation.

“Being new to this region, I have found the Boothbay Region Land Trust preserves to be a unique benefit. Each is a jewel in and of itself, especially after attending programs with Environmental Educator Tracey Hall. These programs bring my attention to each location’s history, flora and fauna. As a health educator, I see how BRLT’s nature hikes improve participants’ well-being through hiking, learning and interacting with others. I have enjoyed being a participant, and have been able to expand my senses and practice mindfulness during each and every hike. I continue to reap the benefits of these programs long after I go home. In addition, these programs provide a safe opportunity to get out in nature, meet new people and make new friends!” –Ruth Townsend

“Joining the guided hikes offered by Boothbay Region Land Trust has taught me so much about the habitats and history on the different preserves. Tracey is a very knowledgeable source. Walking through these natural areas and stopping to learn about the plants, animals, insects, etc. that inhabit this area of Maine (where I live and love to learn) has been my absolute favorite experience. Because these walks take place during all times of the year, everything changes according to the season. Sometimes we are focused on birdsong, sometimes leaves of different trees, sometimes spoor of different animals that may be alert and feeding, or inert and resting through the winters. These walks are a joy to me (and others). The slower pace allows us to absorb the various creatures and seasons. This has been especially important to me because I was injured and cannot walk as fast as I used to, but I can still get out and learn, thanks to Tracey and these walks.” –Dr. Germain Connolly

“My Pre-K students have had such wonderful experiences exploring nature with Boothbay Region Land Trust! During our various field trips, we have used our five senses to learn about our surroundings and the animals that live there, tasted and smelled things from nature, and even pretended to be deer with ears that can hear the tiniest sounds! Our nature walks with Environmental Educator Tracey Hall are always the perfect mixture of movement, fun, and learning!” –Kate Rice, Boothbay Region Elementary School

“I have been on several hikes with Tracey this fall and am always amazed by the depth and breadth of her knowledge of plants and animals. No question can stump her! Additionally, she is very mindful of each participant, ensuring that everyone is introduced and comfortable throughout the event. We are so lucky to have her on our team!” –Nancy Adams

CONSERVATION PROPERTIES

Acquired 2 new conservation properties

163

Conserved 163 new acres

25

Conserved 25 acres of wetland habitat

Boothbay Region Land Trust is proud to have acquired two significant conservation properties within our focus areas in 2023, each of which resulted in greater connectivity to conserved lands. Our newest acquisition, Autumn View Preserve, was finalized in December. Stay tuned for more news on this exciting new property in our summer newsletter!

“As neighbors with property on the River~Link trail, we were so excited to read about your acquisition of the large property on River Road. We’re glad this lovely piece of the peninsula will be preserved - especially since, with the Colby Preserve pretty much across the street, it’s helping give animals a way across from the protected center of the peninsula to the river. We’ve seen the large male bobcat, grandfather bucks, zillions of turkeys, porcupine, red and grey foxes, and more. When walking I’ve seen signs of the solo young male bear which lives in these woods. There is an epic movement of salamander and wood frogs in the spring. Thank you from a neighbor!” – Air Rhodes

– Air Rhodes

“The protection of the new land adjoining the Lobster Cove Meadow Preserve is critical to ensuring that this special place continues to be an important bird migration stopover hotspot that supports a diversity and abundance of migrant birds each spring and fall.”

– Jeff Wells, VP for Boreal Conservation, National Audubon

OSPREY GIVING CIRCLE & OSPREY LEGACY SOCIETY

Since its inception in 1980, Boothbay Region Land Trust (BRLT) has been quietly supported by a loyal and generous group of benefactors — both monetarily, and through gifts of land or conservation easements.

In appreciation, the Board of Directors established two donor recognition programs — the Osprey Giving Circle, and the Osprey Legacy Society. Membership to these special groups is achieved in the following ways:

OSPREY GIVING CIRCLE:

- Donation of a cumulative or one-time gift of $25,000
- Donation of land
- Donation of an easement

OSPREY LEGACY SOCIETY:

- BRLT is included in one's estate plans

Recognition in the Giving Circle and Legacy Society includes an annual invitation to our exclusive appreciation event, as well as a lifetime membership to Boothbay Region Land Trust.

This dedicated and generous support has sustained and grown the organization, allowing for a great future of land conservation, public access and environmental education for the entire Boothbay peninsula for years to come. If you would like to know more about ways to give to Boothbay Region Land Trust, or our donor recognition programs, please reach out to Skye Wood at vwood@bbrlt.org.

2023 was a year of broadening and strengthening our connections in the community. Collaborations like the Stone Symposium and gallery at Oak Point Farm expanded our longtime connections with the art community; member events and programming maintained our relationships with supporters; and outreach opportunities helped connect new people to our organization.
